

Journey of Motherhood

It started with a seed of love, thus motherhood begun.
Life would never be the same. Nor my work ever be done.
For once I became a mother, I wore my heart inside out.
Putting my own needs aside, I learned what love's about.
From a baby to a child, each month went much too fast.
Discovering the world together, building memories that would last.
Before my eyes appeared an adult, a child transformed to a friend.
In just a blink of an eye, their childhood came to an end.
Then one day I turned around to find time had run away.
The love that I had given was coming back in a different way.
In my journey to motherhood I could clearly see.
The love I had for my child was returning back to me!

Quote from Scripture:

"Her children stand and bless her." Proverbs 31:28

The diamonds grow bigger on the heart just as our love grows each step of the way with our child. The pink sapphires represent the love that is given back to us.
