

Quote from Scripture:
"A good and honest life is a blessed memory..." Proverbs 10:7

Memory

Some day there will be no tears, for they will be wiped away.
I will hold on to that promise, as I live each and every day.
Someday we will meet again, though heaven keeps us apart.
For you will always be with me, I shall carry you in my heart!
Someday we will share joy again, when I join you in eternity.
But for now you will always be to me, a precious memory.
